

Are you a creative contributor? Do you think you've got what it takes to improve our outdoor space? We need your help!

One of our Eco Schools targets is to improve the biodiversity of our school grounds. That means we want to encourage more wildlife into the school grounds.

The RSPB are currently running a competition to redesign your outdoor space to encourage wildlife. You could win an Outdoor Learning Kit for our school! These include bog pots, binoculars, magnifying glasses and Identification guides.

Use the scorecard <https://drive.google.com/file/d/1Ttd-yAC2FQwcfloSK6XDeTkconZII2Sq/view> to rate our current outdoor space for encouraging wildlife into the school grounds and then set about redesigning the outdoor space to make it more appealing for wildlife.

Think about what wildlife you would like to see and what would attract them to the school grounds. The RSPB website has lots of information about what different wildlife like.

Pob lwc! We look forward to seeing your entries!
